An Early Start In Track

DB Cooper-35185

RAIN or shine, three days a week, the West Seattle Road Runners hear the welcome and familiar command:

"All right, everybody out on the track!"

The Road Runners is a track club formed last September by a group of West Seattle parents to provide a track and field program to youngsters from 7 to 17 years of age. It is registered with the Amateur Athletic Union, Pacific Northwest Association, and is supervised by Gary Day, head coach.

Day, who promotes track whenever possible, believes the youngsters develop better self confidence and sportsmanship working both as a team and competing as an individual.

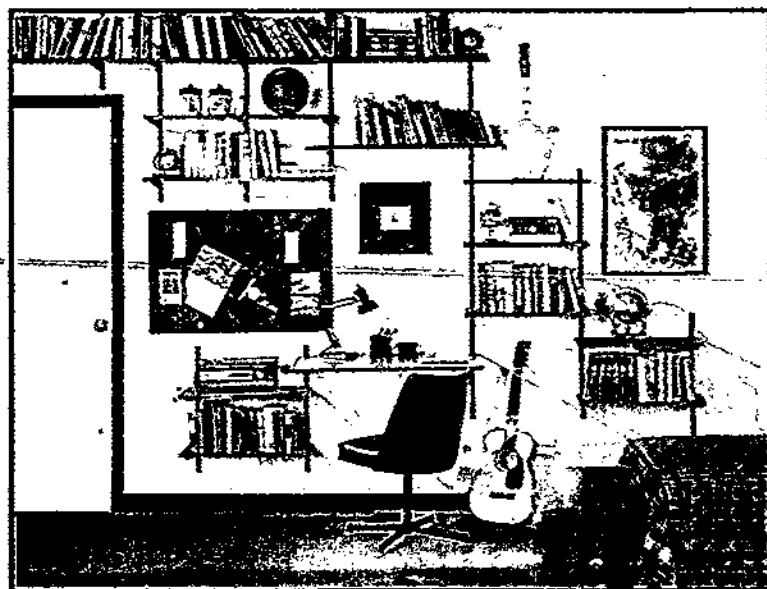

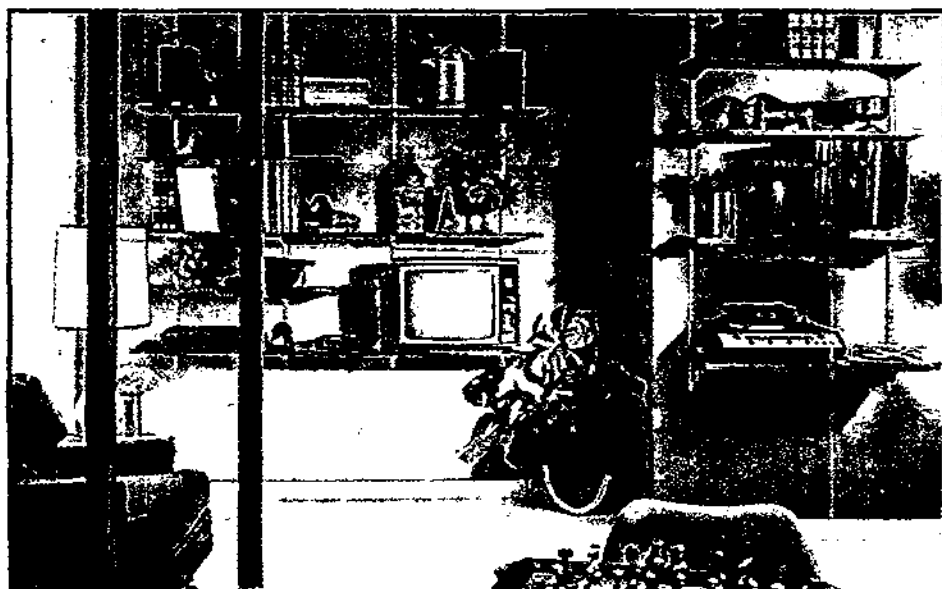

The Road Runners competed in the 1969 cross-country season and have numerous meets scheduled this season. Each boy or girl is watched carefully by Day and his assistants for proper conditioning against muscle strains or other injuries. And they also make sure the youngsters have fun.

PREFACE

The 1970 version of the USPA Directory is an "expanded publication" and "considerably more complete than earlier editions which listed only those drop zones operated by affiliated clubs."

By means of a survey type questionnaire we have been able to list many drop zone facilities for which previously there was little or no information available. As a word of caution; this solicited information has not always been verifiable, and the reader should therefore be prepared for occasional discrepancies between the reported and the actual facilities available at some DZs. Generally, those drop zones which have been visited by a USPA staff member (preceded by a star) and those operated by USPA affiliated clubs should be considered the most reliably reported.

In the event the reader discovers an error in the listed information, or has suggestions for the revision of future editions, please send these comments to Box 109, Monterey, California.

It is hoped that this new format of a State by State breakdown of drop zones, area safety officers, FAA facilities, and the USPA affiliated clubs will provide an easily referenced index of the information most necessary to users of this Directory.

This publication is presented as a service of the United States Parachute Association and is current as of 1 May 1970.

Jerry Rouillard
Assistant Director
United States Parachute Association

Duket is a 26 year old white man sentenced at Denver, Colorado under sub-section 4208 (a)(2) to seven years for robbing a Denver Savings & Loan Association of $3,000, pretending he had a pistol. He was serving both federal and state probation at the time of the offense. He used the infant child of a friend as a hostage in escaping officials when first apprehended. Only during the last year has he been engaged in criminal activities, during which time he has received two suspended sentences for serious offenses.

Our inmate comes from a large family of twelve children. He married at age nineteen, shortly after quitting high school prematurely. His marital life was stormy, and after a separation and a reunion he and his wife separated again. Although he was employed fairly steadily, he changed jobs frequently, was restless and unstabilized and appears to have exhibited a high degree of nervous tension and frustration resulting in the twelve month "binge" which culminated with the present offense.

Duket functions on almost a tenth grade level, has high average intelligence and a very fast manipulative dexterity. Tests show he has aptitudes for learning in numerous types of work. However, he very flatly declares he is not interested in pursuing academic subjects or engaging in any trade or vocational training. He declares he has a trade as a grocery and food warehouse worker, but he plans to follow construction work on release. He resents the suggestion that he should improve himself trade-wise while here and, in this frame of mind, he is not presently a candidate for such training. He is interested in the religious instruction program and has enrolled in such a course. There is only a bare possibility that relations between him and his wife will improve to the point of a reconciliation. He is an impetuous, flighty individual for whom prognosis is guarded.

PRESENT OFFENSE, Official Version: On August 15, 1961 Duket, knowingly and wilfully by intimidation took from the person and presence of [redacted] the sum of $3,000 belonging to the Columbia Savings & Loan Association of Denver, Colorado, [redacted] being an employee of that firm. He entered a plea of guilty in U.S. District Court, Denver, Colorado and was sentenced October 27, 1961 to serve seven years. No codefendants are shown. The circumstances are that while still under probation under the jurisdiction of the United States Probation Service of Los Angeles, California and while still under probation to the Milwaukee County Probation Department in Milwaukee, Wisconsin he committed the present offense. The following day, in the evening, while he was living under the name of [redacted] at a motel in Aurora, Colorado with a female companion and her two small children, he was approached by FBI agents in the parking lot of a restaurant. He was carrying one of the small children in his arms and when the agents approached to question him and identified themselves, he made a gesture with his right hand, giving the impression he was drawing a gun from his belt and then placed his right fist into the back of the child under his sport coat. He made a gesture toward the FBI agents making a statement, "Don't move. Get back". When advised again of the identity of the agents, using the child and his female companion as a shield, he backed away again, warning "Keep away from me" and kept his right hand under the back of the child. He backed away under these circumstances for a distance of approximately one mile into a darkened area where he separated from them after placing the child on the ground, at which time he fled. b6 per BOP b7C

When the judge was pronouncing sentence upon him he interrupted the judge, stating "I don't think I need a tongue lashing with the sentence, Your Honor, I would like to ask the Court to omit verbal punishment and give me my sentence immediately. If I am going to do the time I might at well get it and do it. I don't think I need a verbal tongue lashing with it". On two occasions Duket was reported by Deputy Marshalls to have threatened escape.

INMATE VERSION: The information given to us and to the probation officer by him is to the effect that he owed his brother [redacted] about $200 and he says his brother was putting pressure on him to get the money or he would be reported to the probation officers. After having arrived in Denver, Colorado August 9, 1961 he was in the downtown area of Denver on August 13th and as he walked past the Columbia Savings & Loan Association he thought it would be an easy place to rob, but decided to wait a few days, walking the streets and frequenting Mary's Bar next door, where he met a woman employee by the name of [redacted] and they became friends. He claims that on the morning of the robbery he went to the bar and talked with this person about his intention of robbing the place and planned to call her after the robbery so they could celebrate. About 11:15 he walked past the Savings & Loan company again but saw some policemen in the area and waited until they left. Then he entered the place, going to the counter, getting a withdrawal slip, writing on it "This is a holdup" but since there were too many people around he decided to wait a while loitering in the lobby and talking to an employee. When the customers thinned out he got in line at the window of what appeared to be the youngest looking cashier and asked her to help him and she stated she would, whereupon he gave her the withdrawal slip and kept his right hand below the counter to give the impression that he had a gun, but he carried no weapon. The cashier handed him several bundles of $20 bills, later learned to be in the amount of approximately $3,000. He left the place and took a cab to a place on Colfax avenue, changed clothes, counted his money, and called [redacted] and they met at 1:30 PM, going shopping and attending bars, later picking her children up and registering at a motel on East Colfax avenue as man and wife. Shortly thereafter while coming out of the restaurant the officers approached him and he admits that he put his hand inside b6 per BOP b7C his suit coat as if he had a gun and told them to stay away as he was walking out of it. He states he was still carrying the child and [redacted] and the other child followed closely behind. He claims he walked about eight blocks that way with the officers following, and then fled. He states he hid out until the next day when at about one o'clock he was talking to the military police at the VA Hospital, his identity was discovered and he was arrested. b6 per BOP b7C

PERSONAL HISTORY: Duket was born September 16, 1935 at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. His parents are living in Franksville, Wisconsin; his father being a native of that State and his mother a native of Illinois. The father has worked in the fisheries for many years but both parents are in somewhat poor health at this time and depending on help from others. Our inmate is one of twelve children, the only one other one of which has been in trouble being the brother [redacted] who is serving a sentence at El Reno, Oklahoma for violation of the Dyer Act. The other members of the family appear to have substantial jobs and homes. His mother reports that he was a normal child at birth, got along well with other members of the family, began school at age six and was an average student. He went as far as the 11th grade and worked as part time while in school. She claims he went to parochial school part of the time and it is noted that he went to the West Milwaukee High School where the principal verifies that he was of average ability but his attendance record was poor and he was truant considerably. After two years of high school, at the insistence of his parents, he withdrew. He displayed no antisocial attitudes or tendencies while in school and he showed an IQ of 99. He remained in the family home until interrupted by the sudden quitting school he worked steadily in some of the fisheries in Milwaukee would like to find employment and give no my sentence immediately. If I am b6 per BOP b7C

He was married May 29, 1954 at Milwaukee, Wisconsin to Carol [redacted] who divorced February 14, 1961 in Milwaukee. She writes that the marriage was a happy one for the most part, that they shared many sports and activities together, that he never physically mistreated or abused either her or any of the three children, who range in ages from seven down to three. The three children are living with her in California and she is working as a waitress making a little over $2.00 an hour plus tips. She reports that he did walk out on her when she was pregnant with the second child and he returned about four months later. With the aid of a friend they were reunited again. She states that there was never any pressure from debt or living expenses as he made a normal living, working in the fisheries, working as a truck driver and station attendant and selling warehouse goods, and later working as a retail food clerk. She claims that he was never out of work for any lengthy period of time but did change jobs a good deal, and seemed to sincerely enjoy working. She states that he has received welfare assistance and is now receiving about $24 a week. She says she would rather not comment about his morals but about what she best knows is that he would correspond with him or anyone involved in his life. She wants to know if the boys are getting along nicely and that his children remember and love him. She says that he made very few close friends. He was seen with a white loitering in the lobby and b6 per BOP b7C

He continued to work in the fisheries after he was married and his mother reports that he is an excellent fish boner. He worked for the Milwaukee Fisheries in Milwaukee making $1.50 an hour. The personnel manager there says that he was a very good worker and a good "boner" but they would not rehired him. In 1958 he had been rehired as a warehouse man for the A & P food stores in Milwaukee making $2.56 an hour. He left this employment of his own accord. The family moved to the same place in 1958. He was employed as a grocery store clerk at Kin Mohr, children and in 1960 he traveled with his brother [redacted] and another brother to a vacationing out of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. As they were leaving Milwaukee the brother put the brother in the car b6 per BOP b7C of the party became involved in a scuffle with a filling station attendant and it was later discovered that they had robbed him of $65. About two weeks later, while in Denver, Colorado, they saw a new model automobile parked with the motor running and the keys in it. [redacted] picked up the car and took the three of them to Los Angeles, California and in Los Angeles in September of 1960 our inmate cashed a $20 worthless check. Although a charge of forgery was placed against him this was dropped and he was placed on probation for one year on a charge of driving the stolen automobile. He was released to the custody of Wisconsin authorities, returned to Milwaukee where he received a suspended five year sentence and placed on probation for the incident that occurred there. He now has a detainer from the sheriff of Milwaukee, Wisconsin for robbery and a "notify" by the Probation Department of Milwaukee County, Milwaukee, Wisconsin for probation violation.

CURRENT SITUATION:

[redacted] is serving his first institutional commitment, although he has had several arrests in the past. He was also under federal probation and state probation at the time this incident occurred. The probation officer's report indicates there is a possibility that his federal probation will be allowed to expire automatically on December 27, 1961. Duket comes from a family of twelve children of which only one other member is a delinquent, the remainder of the family being fairly substantial. His schooling was broken off before he completed high school. His principal employment has been for a fishery but it has been interrupted by several discontinuances and his work record in general is intermittent. His wife has divorced him and she and the three children are living in California. There is not likely to be any reconciliation but she speaks rather kindly of him. He plans to go to Wisconsin and live by himself when he is released and do construction work. He is interested in learning more about construction while here. He is a rather flighty, impetuous individual, and prognosis is highly guarded.

They were [redacted] Milwaukee, Wisconsin to [redacted]. She writes that the marriage was congenial and they had many sports and activities together, that he never hit her or any of the three children, who range in age from 12 to 15. The three children are living with her in Encino. She is making a little over a dollar an hour plus overtime when she was pregnant with the second child. With the aid of a priest they were able to pay off all the debts and never any pressure from debts or living expenses. She was always in the fisheries, working as a truck driver and later working as a retail feed store. She has never been out of work for any lengthy period of time but did seem to sincerely enjoy working. She states that she has no influence and is now receiving about $24 a week. She writes that [redacted] after he was married and his mother reports [redacted] for the Miller fisheries in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
